

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTION SERVICES (SI):

Supplemental Instruction, a peer tutorial program, is available in courses which are historically difficult for students, such as, calculus, biology, anatomy and physiology, chemistry, and history. SI Leaders are students who have previously excelled in the course and then sit through the course again, take notes, and do homework in preparation for the SI sessions. SI Leaders facilitate two sessions per week and students who are enrolled in the SI course may attend as many sessions as they wish. Ask your advisor for more information concerning this free service.
