- Nancy Womack shared with the taskforce how she was using Inquiry Based Learning with her British Literature class this summer.
- There was a group discussion concerning what direction the taskforce should take from this point. The taskforce decided to form a subcommittee for each learning strategy which had been previously presented. Each subcommittee will provide details as to what it will entail to present a learning strategy to the campus i.e. length of the training, who will facilitate, who will benefit from the training and the cost for training.
