Are you showing symptoms or have concerns of exposure and think you may need to be tested?

- Contact your health care provider to discuss whether they recommend you be tested.
- If needed, you may go to the NCDHHS website at: <https://covid19.ncdhhs.gov/about-covid-19/testing/find-my-testing-place>. Here you can search for community testing events or use the test site finder to locate a testing site close to you.
- Call the test site before you go to learn about their availability, hours, and testing criteria.
