

Audio Visual

Many areas have audio-visual equipment installed in classroom/labs or available for use. Inquiries into the availability and use of audio-visual equipment should be directed to the dean/director of the division of their designee.

In addition, the Telecommunications Technology instructor can assist with setting up sound systems, recording equipment, projectors, and a variety of audio-visual requests. They also serve as a consultant regarding the purchase of audio-visual equipment and will check equipment for needed repairs.
