

Student Rights, Responsibilities and Judicial Procedures

I. PRINCIPLES

Isothermal Community College exists to improve life through learning. Free inquiry and free expression are essential to the attainment of this goal. Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions. Students should exercise their freedom with responsibility. As members of the academic community, students are subject to the obligations which accrue to them by virtue of this membership. As members of the larger community of which the College is a part, students are entitled to all rights and protection accorded them by the laws of that community.

By the same token, students are also subject to all laws, the enforcement of which is the responsibility of duly constituted authorities. When students violate laws, they may incur penalties prescribed by legal authorities. In such instances, college discipline may be initiated when the presence of the student on campus will disrupt the educational process of the College. However, when a student's violation of the law also adversely affects the College's pursuit of its recognized educational objectives, the College may enforce its own regulations. When students violate college regulations, they are subject to disciplinary action by the College whether or not their conduct violates the law. If a student's behavior simultaneously violates both college regulations and the law, the College may take disciplinary action independent of that taken by legal authorities.

For the purpose of this policy, student is defined as an individual who has been admitted to the College and has registered for courses, or otherwise entered into any other relationship with the College to take instruction. It further includes persons who are eligible to receive any of the rights and privileges afforded a person who is enrolled at the College. Student status lasts until an individual graduates, is dismissed, or is no longer enrolled.

Career and College Promise students are required to adhere to Isothermal Community College's Student Code of Conduct while on or about the premises of the College campus, in Isothermal Community College courses, or at college-sponsored or college-supervised events. When the College is made aware of a high school student's misconduct at their respective high school, the dean of students will determine if the dually enrolled student is also in violation of the College's Student Code of Conduct policy.

Visitors to Isothermal Community College are expected to conduct themselves in an appropriate manner. The College reserves the right to suspend the privilege of visiting the campus or the use of its facilities. Visitors do not have the same rights to due process and appeals as students.

II. STUDENT RIGHTS

A. Constitutional Rights- No rights and privileges guaranteed to every citizen by the Constitution of the United States and by the state of North Carolina shall be denied any student.

B. Freedom of Speech and Assembly- Students have the right to freedom of expression, inquiry and assembly without restraint or censorship subject to reasonable and non-discriminatory rules and regulations regarding time, place, and manner.

C. Student Representation in Governance- Students have the right to inquire about and to propose improvements in policies, regulations and procedures affecting the welfare of students through established student government procedures, campus committees and college offices.

D. Privacy-The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 provides safeguards regarding the confidentiality of and access to student records and this Act will be adhered to by the College (reference Student Records policy 601-02-07AP).

E. Free from Harassment- Students have the right to be free from sexual harassment, gender harassment, and other unlawful harassment or discrimination (reference Student Unlawful Harassment/Discrimination policy 601-02-05BP).

F. Due Process-No disciplinary sanctions other than temporary removal from class or activity (only for duration of said activity) may be imposed upon any student without due process (reference section V: Disciplinary Procedures).

III. STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Students, employees, and visitors to the College are expected to conduct themselves in a respectful manner at all times consistent with the goal of the College to enhance learning. Isothermal Community College reserves the right to maintain a safe and orderly educational environment for students, faculty, staff, and visitors. Therefore, when, in the judgment of College officials, a student's conduct disrupts or threatens to disrupt the learning environment (to include physical campus and facilities, online, web-based, or remote locations) appropriate disciplinary action will be taken. The purpose of this code is not to restrict student rights but to protect the rights of all individuals in the academic community.

The Student Code of Conduct applies to student conduct, which occurs at the College, in any of its facilities, on any of its grounds, or during any College related activity regardless of location. The Student Code of Conduct shall apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from the College while a discipline matter is pending.

Students in certain programs may be expected to follow additional guidelines. Examples include (but are not limited to) Basic Law Enforcement Training standards, guidelines associated with health sciences programs, and policies associated with County Schools (e.g., Rutherford Early College High School or Polk County Early College). The students enrolled in adult basic education (ABE), adult high school (AHS), English as a second language (ESL), or high school equivalency preparation are also expected to follow both the Basic Skills Code of Conduct and the Student Code of Conduct.

A. Jurisdiction

In the following regulations and procedures, the dean of continuing education will review and enforce all policies and regulations for continuing education students, adult basic education (ABE), adult high school (AHS), English as a second language (ESL), and high school equivalency students. All other student regulations and procedures will be referred to the dean of students. Campus deputies or other duly constituted authorities may enforce all laws and regulations as part of their sworn duty independent of college disciplinary action. In certain program areas, Code of Conduct responsibilities may be enforced by other officials as appropriate.

V. STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

A. Immediate Suspension

If an act of misconduct threatens the health or well-being of any member of the academic community or seriously disrupts the function and good order of the College, an instructor or administrative officer may direct the student(s) involved to cease and desist such conduct and advise them that failing to cease and desist will result in removal from class, campus, or college-sponsored activity. If the student(s) fails to cease and desist, the instructor or administrative officer may temporarily remove the student from the class, campus, or college-sponsored activity until a resolution of the matter can be made.

The instructor or administrative officer invoking such suspension shall notify the dean of students/dean of continuing education in writing of the individual(s) involved and the nature of the infraction as soon as possible but no more than two business days following the incident.

Upon reasonable belief that a student's continued presence on campus presents a danger to the community, the dean of students/dean of continuing education may immediately suspend the student during the course of disciplinary procedures. At any time the dean immediately suspends a student because of a belief that the student's presence on campus constitutes a threat to others, the dean may initiate a meeting with the Threat Assessment Team to assess the situation and/or student's continued presence.

The dean of students/dean of continuing education shall resolve the matter in a timely fashion utilizing the steps outlined below.

B. Formal charges that do not require immediate suspension

In order to provide an orderly procedure for handling student disciplinary cases in accordance with due process and justice, the following procedures will be followed:

C. Charges

VI. STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT SANCTIONS

1. Verbal Reprimand: A verbal communication, which is the lightest form of disciplinary action. A verbal warning may be documented in writing.
2. Written Reprimand: A written communication which gives official notice to the student that any subsequent offense against the Student Code of Conduct will carry heavier penalties because of this prior infraction.
3. General Probation: An individual may be placed on general probation when involved in a minor disciplinary offense. General probation has two important components: the student is given a chance to show capability and willingness to observe the Student Code of Conduct without further penalty and if the student violates the Code again during a time of General Probation, further action will be taken. This probation will be in effect for no more than two semesters.
4. Restrictive Probation: Restrictive probation results in loss of good standing and becomes a matter of record. Restrictive conditions may limit activity in the college community or require additional specified activities. Generally, the individual will not be eligible for initiation into any local or national organization, and may not receive any college award or other honorary recognition. The individual may not occupy a position of leadership or responsibility with any college student organization, publication, or activity. This sanction prohibits the student from officially representing the College. This probation will be in effect for not less than two semesters. Any violation of restrictive probation may result in immediate suspension.
5. Restitution: Restitution for damaging, misusing, destroying or losing property belonging to the College, college personnel, students.
6. Withholding transcript, diploma, or right to register: Imposed when financial obligations are not met.
7. Interim Suspension: Exclusion from class and/or other privileges or activities as set forth in the notice, until a final decision has been made concerning the alleged violation.
8. Suspension: Exclusion from course(s), and/or all other privileges or activities of the College for a period of time specified by the dean of students or dean of continuing education. After the specified time has elapsed, the student may request the suspension to be lifted. The student should submit a written request for return and a reflection addressing (1) how their behavior was inconsistent with College expectations, (2) reason for desiring to return to campus, (3) what was learned from the experience, and (4) how they have or how they intend to alter their conduct in accordance with all College policies, including the Student Code of Conduct. This sanction is reserved for those offenses warranting discipline more severe than probation, or for repeated misconduct. Students who receive this sanction must receive specific written permission from the dean of students/dean of continuing education before returning to campus. Suspended students remain responsible for applicable tuition, fees, and/or additional outstanding financial obligations to the College.

Expulsion: Dismissing a student from the College for an indefinite period. The student loses their student status. The student may be readmitted to the College only with the approval of the president. Students who wish to be readmitted after the expulsion should submit a written request for return and a reflection addressing (1) how their behavior was inconsistent with College expectations, (2) their reason for desiring to return to campus, (3) what was learned from the experience, and (4) how they have or how they intend to alter their conduct in accordance with all College policies, including the Student Code of Conduct. Expelled students remain responsible for applicable tuition, fees, and/or additional outstanding financial obligations to the College.

9. Group Probation: This is given to a college club or other organized group for a specified period of time. If group violations are repeated during the term of the sentence, the charter may be revoked or activities restricted.
10. Group Restriction: Removing college recognition during the semester in which the offense occurred or for a longer period. While under restriction, the group may not seek or add members, hold or sponsor events in the college community, or engage in other activities as specified.
11. Group Charter Revocation: Removal of college recognition for a group, club, society, or other organization for a minimum of two years. Re-charter after that time must be approved by the president.
12. Referral to local authorities for prosecution.
13. Presence on campus prohibited or Trespass Order (reference Trespassing policy 802-02-04AP).
14. Removal from Basic Law Enforcement Training (BLET) Program due to loss of sponsorship.
15. Denial of access to the college's computer resources, Internet, and networks (reference Computer Resources/Internet policy 602-03-01AP).
16. Other directive imposed in conjunction with any of the above sanctions as deemed appropriate by the dean of students/dean of continuing education.

In situations regarding student organizations, the dean of students/dean of continuing education, in their discretion, may administer disciplinary action against the organization as well as individual members.

In addition to the above stated sanctions, the student may be required, at their own expense, to attend one or more counseling sessions with a licensed professional counselor or drug education classes while maintaining enrollment or before returning to the College after a period of suspension or expulsion. In such situations, the student must provide written documentation from the licensed professional that the requirement has been met and may be required by the president to provide a statement from an acceptable licensed professional that the student is able to return to class based on their professional judgment.

Disclosure:

1. Students should be aware that Student Code of Conduct violations and related sanctions may be disclosed to outside parties with the written consent of the student. Examples of parties who may require this information are future employers and educational institutions.

2. On an annual basis, the dean of students/dean of continuing education will review Student Code of Conduct violations based upon factors such as severity and length of time since sanctions were imposed. This deliberative process will involve the appropriate vice president and may result in an update of student conduct records. Upon written request, Isothermal Community College, must disclose to the alleged victim of any crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the College against a student who is the alleged perpetrator of such crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of the crime or offense, the information shall be provided, upon request, to the next of kin of the alleged victim.

For students who withdrew prior to a determination regarding alleged misconduct that threatened the health, safety or well-being of any member of the academic community and/or seriously disrupted the function and good order of the College, in addition to other reasonable re-entry restrictions, the student must provide proof from an acceptable licensed mental health professional, at the student's expense, that they no longer pose a direct threat of harm to a member or members of the college community.

VII. Discipline and Appeals for Academic Misconduct

All forms of academic misconduct including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and falsification of information may result in sanctions. Alleged violations will be handled according to the procedures described in this section.

A. Definitions:

- 1. a. Cheating is defined to include the following:
 - i. Using materials or equipment to complete a learning activity not authorized by the administrator of the learning activity.
 - ii. Collaborating with any other person on a learning activity without permission from the instructor or facilitator.
 - iii. Knowingly obtaining, using, buying, selling, transporting, sharing, or soliciting in whole or in part the contents of a learning activity prior to its administration.

- iv. Substituting for another student or permitting any other person to substitute for oneself.
- v. Falsifying information in order to be granted additional time to submit learning activity.
- vi. Cooperating or aiding in any of the above.
- b. "Plagiarism" is the intentional theft or unacknowledged use of another's work or ideas. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to: a) paraphrasing or summarizing another's words or works without proper acknowledgement; b) using direct quotes of material without proper acknowledgment; or c) purchasing or using a paper or presentation written or produced by another person. If a student is uncertain about what constitutes plagiarism, they should discuss with the class instructor.
- c. "Collusion" is defined as knowingly assisting another person in an act of academic misconduct.
- d. Falsification is defined as altering or inventing information in such academic exercises as reports, laboratory results, and citations of the sources of information.

B. Disciplinary Procedures and Documentation of Violations

Academic misconduct threatens the academic integrity and disrupts the function and good order of the College. An instructor, facilitator, or administrator may direct the student(s) involved in academic misconduct to cease and desist such conduct and/or may advise them that appropriate sanctions are warranted. However, if the instructor, facilitator, or administrator should determine that the misconduct was unintentional and that the student would benefit from instruction regarding academic integrity, the instructor, facilitator, or administrator may forego sanctions and conduct or arrange for appropriate instruction. The instructor, facilitator, or administrator shall notify the appropriate dean/director of the individual(s) involved, the nature of the infraction and the action taken by submitting an academic misconduct incident report form as soon as possible but no more than two business days following the sanction or instruction.

C. Sanctions Imposed

The following sanctions may be imposed for academic violations:

- 1.
 - a. Verbal warning;
 - b. Written warning;
 - c. Satisfactory completion of the unfinished assignment;
 - d. Additional coursework;
 - e. Loss of credit for the assignment or learning activity;
 - f. Loss of credit for the course;
 - g. In accordance with guidelines for certain programs, academic misconduct may result in removal from the program of study;
 - h. Multiple violations of academic misconduct may result in further sanctions imposed by dean of students

D. Appeals Procedure for Academic Misconduct

A student, after conferring with the instructor concerned, may present in writing to the appropriate instructional dean/director an appeal of a decision concerning academic misconduct. Academic misconduct appeals should be made within five business days of the sanction. The dean/director will review the decision and respond to the student in a timely manner. The student may appeal the decision of the dean/director to the vice president of academic and student services. The decision of the vice president of academic and student services is final in all cases involving academic misconduct.

GRADE APPEAL

A part of faculty responsibility at the College is the assignment of student grades according to methods that are professionally acceptable, communicated to everyone in the class, and applied to all students equally.

A student who has a disagreement with an instructor's professional judgment in grading should attempt to resolve the matter through discussion with the instructor who issued the grade. The College believes that the preservation of the institution's academic integrity requires that the College ordinarily refrain from review of or participation in an instructor's evaluation of student performance in cases where the instructor is using their professional judgment.

However, the College acknowledges that on occasion circumstances may arise in which a student should have the opportunity to appeal a grade. In these circumstances, the student should first discuss the concerns with the instructor. If desired, the student may further appeal to the dean of the academic department. Appeals to the dean must be submitted in writing within the first four weeks of the succeeding semester. If the student determines that an appeal of the dean's decision is warranted the student may further appeal to the vice president of academic and student services. The decision of the vice president is final in all cases involving grade appeals.

The following examples are provided to clarify when a grade appeal is warranted. These examples are not intended to include all instances that may or may not warrant an appeal.

Examples that do merit a grade appeal:

- The instructor miscalculated a grade.
- The instructor has violated the grading policies outlined in the syllabus without reasonable cause or explanation.
- The instructor has not provided a reasonable explanation of how the student's work was evaluated.

Examples that do not merit a grade appeal:

- The instructor's grading policies differ from other instructors in the department or College.
- The instructor's attendance policy differs from other instructors in the department or College.
- The instructor's late work policy differs from other instructors in the department or the College.
- The grade distribution in the class in question is lower than in other sections of the same course.
- The grade in the course is significantly lower than grades the student earned in similar courses.
- The grade in question will trigger probation, suspension, or loss of financial aid.
- The grade is the result of enforcement of College and/or instructor's academic integrity policies.
